Good Afternoon!

We are excited to share some wonderful news with you. We are delighted to announce that, Dr. Patrick Colarusso, DO has joined our team here as a medical oncologist. Dr. Colarusso brings extensive experience and shares our commitment to providing compassionate, high-quality care to our patients.

Dr. Colarusso completed his medical training at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine, followed by a residency at Hahnemann University, and an oncology fellowship at Fox Chase Cancer Center / Temple University. He has a special interest in Genitourinary oncology, such as prostate, bladder, kidney and testicular cancer. His dedication to staying current with the latest advancements in cancer treatment ensures that our patients will have access to leading-edge therapies and personalized treatment options.

We understand that receiving care from a trusted provider is incredibly important, and we want to reassure you that Dr. Colarusso has already demonstrated the compassionate and patient-centered approach that we value at Center for Urologic Care of Berks County. He looks forward to getting to know each of you and working collaboratively to support your health journey.

As we welcome Dr. Colarusso, our goal remains unchanged: to deliver comprehensive cancer care in a supportive and comfortable environment. Whether you are a long-time patient or new to our practice, we are confident that Dr. Colarusso's expertise will further enhance the level of care we provide.
